Free grant writing workshops in Gladstone Region

Have you got a great arts, culture or heritage project that needs funding, but you're not sure where to start when writing a grant application?

Then, Gladstone Regional Council has just the thing for you!

Gladstone Region Mayor Matt Burnett invites community members to brush up on their grant writing skills during one of three FREE intensive grant writing workshops taking place across the region.

"The group sessions will discuss grant writing, partnership development and promotion," Councillor Burnett said.

"They will also be followed by 40-minute one-on-one sessions with Creative Regions' Creative Producer Di Wills, where you'll be able to really focus specially on your own project needs.

"This is an opportunity to develop great skills and invest in your funding submission success."

Di Wills said she is excited to return to the Gladstone Region and "can't wait share some tips and tricks of the grant trade."

Hosted in conjunction with Gladstone Regional Council's Regional Arts Development Fund (RADF) 2018-2019 Round One, the group sessions will be held from 10.30am to 2pm and one-on-one sessions held between 2.30pm and 4pm.

The workshops will be held at the following venues:

- Thursday, 31 January 2019 - Agnes Water Rural Transaction Centre
- Friday, 1 February 2019 - Yarwun Hall
- Saturday, 2 February 2019 - Gladstone Regional Art Gallery & Museum

Bookings are essential, as places are limited.

Please phone the Gallery & Museum on 4976 6766 or email gragm@gladstone.qld.gov.au to reserve your spot.

RADF is a Queensland Government and Gladstone Regional Council partnership to support local arts and culture in regional Queensland.
